

Find the deflection curve for the beam with supports and loading as shown in figure. Initially there is a gap δ between the point B and the spring. The load is sufficient to close the gap. Use the coordinate axes shown.

